

ASSOCIATION IS FORMED

Enthusiastic Meeting of Alumni of Mt. Sterling High School Held Thursday.

Education received quite a boost in this county last Thursday night when the alumni of the Mt. Sterling High School at its first banquet decided to form a permanent organization and proceeded to elect officers for the ensuing year as follows: Mr. G. B. Senff, President; Miss Alleen Beall, Vice President; W. O. Hopper, Secretary and Treasurer; Mrs. Howard Van Antwerp, and Miss Elizabeth Laughlin, Executive Committee.

It is the intention of the organization to get behind the school board and assist them in every way possible in making the school attractive to the pupils and to arouse the interest of parents in the value of education.

The banquet was given in Ringo's new hall which had been attractively decorated for the occasion. Short talks and toasts by members of the School Board and members of the various classes were enjoyed. Music on the piano by Mrs. Chas. D. Grubbs, with vocal solos by Misses Mattie Judy Botts and Elizabeth Laughlin were highly appreciated.

Prof. W. O. Hopper is being congratulated for proposing the organization of this association as well for the splendid manner in which he arranged the banquet. At the conclusion of the banquet the one hundred and ten members sang "Auld Lang Syne" and "My Old Kentucky Home."

Messrs. John W. William and S. S. Pinney have purchased the camp owned by Capt. W. T. Titus on the Kentucky River. These gentlemen will make considerable repairs. The camp is considered one of the best located ones on the river.

CUT THE WEEDS

There is an ordinance requiring property owners to keep the weeds cut on their premises. Get busy and cut them and save the officers the trouble of calling your attention to this law.

As a matter of pride we should do this without waiting until the officers notify us.

STRIKE ON IN CHICAGO

Street Car Employees Numbering Fourteen Thousand Stop Work Sunday Night.

Chicagoans—approximately 1,500,000 of them, walked, motored and used steam roads to their work Monday.

The strike of 14,000 street car employees went into effect at midnight Sunday. For four hours not a car moved in the 1,310 miles of elevated and surface lines. Then a South Side elevated train, carrying a few passengers, made a round trip as a test. As a result it was announced that an attempt would be made to run trains with strike-breakers and guards every fifteen minutes. The surface lines made 10 attempts to work.

Business was not paralyzed, but it was humbled. The tie-up in one way or another affected every branch of the city's activities.

The steam railroads put on extra trains and extra coaches but were swamped with business. Lines of persons waiting to get through the turnstiles stretched for blocks away from the stations, and tens of thousands walked to their work.

Orders to strike were issued after an all-day conference Sunday of union leaders, transportation company officials and Mayor Thompson in a vain attempt to bring about arbitration. Neither side would yield. The strikers had demanded a guarantee of a wage increase. Officials of the company refused this demand. To meet it, company officials said, would mean an increase of $1,400,000 annually.

CITY COUNCIL NAMES OFFICERS

Adjourned Meeting of City Fathers Held at Council Chamber Monday Night.

When Chief of Police John Gibbons filed his written recommendation of deputies for the six months term beginning July 1st, considerable surprise was occasioned, he naming Messrs. Thos. Scott, E. W. Smith and Jesse Flora, the last named to take the place of Mr. Jus. C. Tipton. The recommendation of the Chief of Police is in accordance with the resolution authorizing him to select his own deputies and the city council acquiesced in the selections, except Councilman Stockton voted no on the selection of Mr. Smith and Councilman McKee did not vote on the selection of Mr. Flora. Councilmen Stephens and Botts were not present at the meeting.

The course of the Chief in not recommending Mr. Tipton, who has made quite a reputation as an officer, is being condemned by Mr. Tipton's friends as political, while the friends of the Chief justify his course in the statement that Mr. Tipton's candidacy against Mr. Gibbons for Chief of Police made a harmonious course of action between them impossible.

Upon leaving the force at the end of the month, it is understood that Mr. Tipton will devote his entire time to his candidacy and will not make any plans for the future until after the August primary.

Mr. Flora is a sober, industrious and worthy young man, and while he has never before served in a similar position, we see no reason why he should not make a satisfactory official.

Mr. Howard Anderson was elected as City Warden for the coming six months and Mr. Tom Holland was elected Street Commissioner for the same period. No other matters of importance were transacted.

HAD BIRTHDAY ON MONDAY

Flag of the Greatest and Best Country on the Globe Celebrates Birthday.

Flag day was celebrated all over this grand and glorious country on Monday, it being the one hundred and thirty-eighth anniversary of the adoption of the flag of the United States.

Patriotic services were held in nearly all the large cities and lodges and patriotic organizations everywhere observed the day.

VISITOR FROM NEW YORK

John W. Wade, of Jamestown, N. Y., arrived here Sunday to spend two months with his son, Millard Wade and family, and see the Montgomery County Fair in July. Mr. Wade formerly lived here but moved to the Empire State two years ago, where he is engaged in business and has been very successful. His two sons, C. D. Wade and Elmer Wade, are engaged in the shoe business in Jamestown. He is being welcomed warmly by many friends.

OFFICERS RAID STILL

Deputy Collector S. H. Thorpe, of Louisville; Ed. Finnell, of the same city, and Deputy Marshall Porter Enbank have returned from Menefee county, where they made a raid on Dogwood branch and captured and destroyed a moonshine still, which they said had recently been in operation. The still was copper and of sixty-gallon capacity. The officers also destroyed a lot of beer, probably 425 gallons, malt, barrels and other moonshine apparatus. It was the first raid the Louisville officers had participated in, in this section, and they were pleased with the manner in which Deputy Marshal Enbank conducted the raid.

OFF FOR THE RACES

E. R. Little left Tuesday for Rockport, O., with his trotting stable including Hugh Miller, Peter Chenuit, Silver Bells, Lucile Brooks and some two-year-old trotters. Mr. Little's horses are in excellent condition and he should give a good account of himself at Rockport, where he will make his first start this season. Hugh Miller is heavily engaged on the half mile tracks this season, and is fast and game as a peacock. His owner feels confident that he will be able to pull down a portion of the money in his starts.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Delegates from Every County in the State Meet and Form G. O. P. Platform.

At the time of our going to press the Republican Convention being held at Lexington had not adjourned but from the best information we were able to obtain the convention would adopt a plank advocating the County Unit Law as against the State Wide movement, although Hon. E. C. O'Rear, one of the biggest men in the Republican party in Kentucky was expected to lead a fight for the State wide plank. Although primarily a platform convention it developed that the leaders would agree of a slate which would be led by Hon. Edwin P. Morrow, of Somerset, although Dr. Ben L. Branner and Dr. W. Godfrey Hunter both announced candidate for the nomination, claim to be winners.

CHARTER EXTENDED

The Exchange Bank of Kentucky, located in this city, has filed with the Secretary of State at Frankfort, amended articles of incorporation, extending its charter for the period of twenty-five years, from June, 1916, when its present charter will expire. This is the second time its charter has been extended and none of the original organizers are alive today.

While its cashier, Mr. B. Frank Perry believes in conservative banking, he is also as liberal with its patrons as consistent banking will permit, and as a result this institution is in a most healthy and prosperous condition.

BUYS NICE HOME

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Lawrence, of Morehead, have purchased from Richmond Turley his residence and farm, containing about six acres, on the Winchester pike, for about $4,500. Possession of the property will be given at once and Mr. Lawrence and family will move there to make their future home. It is not known what Mr. Turley will do but he will remain in this county.

LOSES BIG LAW SUIT

State of West Virginia Will Be Bankrupt by Enormous Judgment Just Rendered.

A half century of dispute and litigation between the State of West Virginia and Virginia over the proper apportionment of liability for the debt incurred by Virginia prior to its participation during the Civil War Monday was settled by the Supreme Court, which held that West Virginia is obligated to pay $4,215,622.28 of the principal of the debt and $8,178,307.22 of accrued interest.

The decision is a staggering blow to the State of West Virginia, which has contended without qualification, that it is not obligated to pay interest on its share of the debt.

A more dramatic situation lies ahead, as Holmes Conrad, of counsel for the State of Virginia, has filed an application with the Clerk of the Supreme Court, to be presented later to the Court, asking that a receiver be appointed for the State of West Virginia to assess, levy, collect and pay to Virginia the obligation determined by the Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court, in fixing West Virginia's liability, figured interest as of July 1, 1915, and ordered that if the obligation were not satisfied on that date the sum would thereafter bear interest at the rate of 5 per cent. a year.

The plight in which the decision of the Court leaves the State of West Virginia, together with the application filed by Conrad, aroused keen speculation over the question of whether the State of West Virginia may not face shortly the question of being sold at public auction from the steps of the Capitol at Washington.

GOOD BALL GAME

One of the best ball games witnessed in this city in many months was played here Sunday afternoon between the Swastikas of Frankfort, and the Federals of this city. The latter won by a score of 2 to 1, making their winning run in the ninth inning. The game was replete with brilliant plays and the pitching of Hopkins for the Federals was a feature. A good crowd saw the game.

HOW TRUE

The Mt. Vernon Signal speaks the following parable for the edification of those who "knock" their home paper:

"Once there was a boy who went to a circus, and watching his chance, managed to crawl under the tent. After the show was over he went about saying it was no good. Every time we hear anyone say their home paper is no account nine times out of ten we find that they are not on the list of paying subscribers, or else owe for several years' subscription, and then we think of the boy who crawled under the circus tent."

WHEN THE FARMER COMES TO TOWN

How do you greet the farmer when he comes to town?

Is your greeting such that he feels that he is with us, but not of us? Or is he made to feel that he is in HIS town, among HIS people, and with HIS friends?

The making or the marriag of this town depends greatly upon your attitude toward the farmer when he favors us with his visits.

He is the backbone of the community, and without his aid and encouragement we would be an unsuccessful business community.

The townsman is no better than the man from the farm, and the farmer can claim no superiority over the townsman.

We are all human beings, with the same aims and purposes in life, and endowed with the same brands of intelligence.

In fact, we are brothers of a common community, the only difference being that the one lives in town, where life is a little more diversified, while the other breathes God's pure air in the green fields of the country.

Let us remember that we are brothers, and sisters, and cousins, and that the welfare of the one is vital to the success of the other.

When we ride out into the country the farmer extends the hand of fellowship, bids us welcome and hands us a hearty "come again."

It is a delightful characteristic of the man from the farm, for his greeting is sincere and his invitation is from the heart.

But what of us when the farmer comes to town?

Is our welcome on the same high plane as his?

Is he made to feel and realize that our smile is for HIM, and not for the contents of his purse?

We of the town are proud of the farmers of this community, and of their wives and their daughters.

They are men and women of a high order of intelligence, whose integrity is beyond question, and whose thrift, and energy, and perseverance is transforming our countryside into a hive of industry and wealth.

They are BUILDERS, one and all.

But we fear that we of the town are often forgetful of the great duty that we owe to them for their loyalty and generosity in support of the local business community.

We ourselves know of the high regard in which we hold the farmers of this community, but we doubt if the farmer knows of the warm sentiments which we entertain toward him.

And this is because we think much and say too little.

It should not be so—it should be otherwise than thus.

Let us of the town cultivate a more friendly and neighborly spirit. Let us open up our hearts that the farmer may look within, for we are but one big family and should dwell together in unity and brotherly love.

Let us act as we feel, and give the farmer to understand that he is of us, as well as with us.

We need each other, for a prosperous farming community makes a live town and the prosperity of the town adds life and enjoyment to the countryside.

Life is sweet—while the kissable lips hold out.

Half the grief in the world is caused by the people waiting until the next morning to lock the barn.

AFTER THREE YEARS

Mt Sterling Testimony Remains Unshaken.

Time is the best test of truth. Here is a Mt. Sterling story that has stood the test of time. It is a story with a point which will come straight home to many of us.

John Forman, 8 Montgomery St., Mt. Sterling, says: "I have been a hard worker all my life. When I had lifting or heavy work to do, I went about it and did it and in that way wrenched my back. I was laid up several days and began looking around for a cure. I did not find anything that would help me until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Duerson's Drug Store. They soon made me feel well and strong and free from kidney trouble."

OVER THREE YEARS LATER, Mr. Forman said: "I am glad to confirm what I said about Doan's Kidney Pills before; they did more for me than any kidney medicine I ever used."

WEALTH OF UNITED STATES

The national wealth is officially estimated at $187,739,000,000, $1,965 for each man, woman and child in the country. Such are the figures contained in the special bulletin, "Estimated Valuation of National Wealth, 1850-1912," which is about to be issued by Director Samuel L. Rodgers, of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce.

In less than two-thirds of a century—from 1850 to 1912—the total wealth of the nation, excluding exempt real estate, increased from $7,136,000,000, or $308 per capita, the percentage of increase being 2,658 for the total and 496 for the per capita amounts. In other words, the wealth of the nation as a whole is nearly twenty-five times as great as it was in 1850, while that of the individual is about six times as great.

The exempt real estate, which was estimated at $15,314,000,000, or $129 per capita, in 1912, includes the buildings, other structures, and public works owned by the Federal, State and local government, with the land on which they stand together with such real property of educational, charitable and religious institutions as is exempt from taxation.

Some of the items which make up the 1912 and the following:

Taxed real property and improvement	$97,363,000,000
Exempt real property improvement	$12,314,000,000
Railroads and their equipment	$16,149,000,000
Manufactured products (other than clothing and personal adornments, furniture, vehicles and kindred property)	$14,694,000,000
Furniture, vehicles and kindred property	$8,463,000,000
Live stock	$6,238,000,000
Manufacturing machinery, tools and implements	$6,091,000,000
Agricultural products	$5,240,000,000
Street railways	$4,597,000,000
Clothing and personal adornments	$4,195,000,000
Gold and silver coin and bullion	$2,617,000,000
Privately owned central electric light and power stations	$2,099,000,000
Shipping and canals	$1,491,000,000
Farm implements and machinery	$1,368,000,000
Telephone system	$1,081,000,000
The total wealth of New York, $25,011,000,000, is the greatest shown for any State, while Illinois and Pennsylvania, with $15,484,000,000 and $15,459,000,000, respectively.

THE TRUST ISSUE DEAD?

The Federal Court decision that the so-called "Steel Trust" is not a trust evokes from the observant and informed New York World the statement that the trust issue is now dead in politics.

In the opinion of the World the case of the United States Steel Corporation was decided upon the facts, like any Police Court case. There was an absence of proof that this great industry strives to get on by crushing competition. The World ventures the pronouncement of a trust-issueless campaign, saying that there is at present no sentiment against great industries upon the score of their dimensions.

The tariff revision, with its complications and its promise, measurably removes the trust question from the forum, inasmuch as the Republican tariff was admittedly a friend of the so-called trusts. Perhaps the Federal court decision may have the effect which the World forecasts. A campaign without trust busters would be refreshing in one respect. It would remove from the debate upon men and measures thundering generalities uttered easily and readily by speakers and writers incapable of making any charges save of the most general nature. The average voter has had the vaguest idea as to what has constituted the difference between a large business, merely, and a trust. He has had confidence in the debaters in accordance with the degree of his partyism and without troubling to try to find out the truth or falsity of sounding and sweeping charges.—State Journal.

SENATOR McCULLUM MISTAKEN

When Senator McCullum, editor of the Waco (Tex.) Semi-Weekly Tribune, publicly stated, recently, that the country weekly would go the way of the cross-roads store, he showed a lamentable lack of knowledge of the present condition of the country weeklies. It may be that his own paper is being crowded out by the local dailies. This would not be at all strange since news weeklies are not over popular in cities where the daily papers are as enterprising as they should be.

But in the small towns, those in which there are either no dailies whatever or those that do exist are only make-believes, the country weekly is a tower of strength, and is liable to continue as such for many years to come. The country weekly is regarded by the townspeople as an institution that is indispensable to the prosperity of the community. Everybody reads it, from the man who drives the hack or mends shoes, to the doctor, the lawyer or the parson. It may not be written in the most approved style, its typography may be none of the best and yet every line it contains is as eagerly read as the chapters of an absorbing detective story.

What does Senator McCullum think is going to take the place of the country weekly—the big city daily? Not to any appreciable degree! Is the big city daily going to print the home news of the small town—the little things, as well as those of greater importance? Will it mention the painting of Smith's barn; the new delivery wagon that Jones, the grocer, recently bought, or the joke that the village wag played upon the red-headed barber? Such trifles as these seem ridiculous to the metropolitan editor, but to the people in the small town they are mighty interesting.

The country weekly is in no danger of being driven to the wall except in such places as have outgrown their swaddling clothes and become so large that only a daily meets the needs of the city.—Editor, Publisher and Journalist.

FRECKLE-FACE

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Easily.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength—from Bassett Drug Co., and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

Sends Hurry Call for Stomach Pump

W. H. Conners Was In Bad Shape Before Using Andes' Medicine.

"Really Wonderful" He Says of His Recovery.

So run-down was the condition of W. H. Conners, of Fayetteville, that he had to have his stomach pumped before taking Andes' Prescription. Now he is a well man and in a statement that rings true with heartfelt gratitude, he endorses Andes' Prescription and Oil, the medicines that have accomplished such wonderful results all over Kentucky.

Mr. Conner said recently: "I have been a great sufferer from stomach trouble for about ten years, as near as I can remember. My digestion was bad; and I could scarcely eat anything for fear of awful pain that would be sure to follow. My condition became one of a general run-down nature, and my blood was in bad shape. I had to have my stomach pumped out not less than once each month for more than a year. It always gave me relief, that was all. I became very skeptical as to the merits of anything. I had tried so many medicines without the least benefit that I had no idea Andes' Prescription would help me. However it has; in fact, it has done me more good than everything else combined. I hope that others who are suffering with stomach trouble as I was will at least give Andes' a trial. There is nothing to equal it. My own change is really wonderful."

The medicine referred to by Mr. Conners is now sold exclusively in Mt. Sterling by Land & Priest.—Adv.

A GOOD ROADS ARGUMENT

There's an excellent argument for good roads in the application of the Cincinnati, Flemingsburg & Southwestern railroad for relief from the long and short haul law in order that it may meet the competitive freight rates of an auto truck which runs between Flemingsburg and Maysville.

Good roads alone make it possible for automobile freight hauling to be done at reasonable rates. The roads in Mason and some of the adjoining counties, are and have for a long time, been excellent. Any county which has good roads reduces its freight cost greatly, and everyone, in one way or another, has to pay freight.

Where the roads are good a great deal of private hauling of freight is done at what are very greatly cut rates compared with the cost of hauling over bad roads.—State Journal.

WILL CONTEST

In Montgomery County Court last week two wills were offered for probate, executed by Mrs. Florence Hadden, who died in this city several months ago. The first will was dated 1909, and bequeathed all the property, consisting of about 41 acres of land, etc., to Miss Lucy May Eubanks, a granddaughter, and daughter of W. W. Euhanks, of this city. The other will was dated in 1914 and bequeathed the estate of her son, Shirley Hadden, of Winchester. It was claimed that the last will was made when Mrs. Hadden was incompetent, and Judge Chenault so held and probated the first will. The case will be appealed. The estate is valued at about $6,000.

WILL HE SIGN THE BILL?

Selection of your Insurance Agent more important than the selection of your Banker

Before you would deposit money in a bank you would investigate it most carefully. You would have to be satisfied of its ability to pay you your balance which you might want at any time. Now the balance you would keep in the bank is a comparatively small amount—not nearly as large an amount as you might have to demand from your insurance company in case of a sudden loss. In many cases the Insurance Policy protects a person's entire property, while the banker only has your surplus cash. Should your Insurance Agent fail you—you lose ALL, while if your Banker fails, you lose only your surplus change.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists. Price 75c per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

CUT OFF SUPPLIES

Wall Street journals say that since Italy entered the war there is nothing more to come worth worrying about as far as the spread of contagion is concerned. They say it is less likely than ever that the United States be involved, because Germany is cut off entirely from supplies by way of Italy and Switzerland and must try to retain the friendship of the United States, Holland, Denmark, Sweden and Norway. To quote the words of a Wall Street writer on finance, "A little more and the ring of steel will be complete." The plain English of this is that Germany will be completely surrounded by enemies, its ports blockaded, its supplies cut off and a war of extermination will be on. Now the German under-the-sea terrors are certain to become more active and more desperate than ever. A ring of steel surrounds Germany. A picket fence of submarine conning towers surrounds the British Isles.

A GREAT PROGRAM

Beginning July 2nd, our citizens will enjoy its annual Chautauqua, and so far as we are able to judge, the program is excellent in every respect.

The opening lecture entitled "Hungry People" by Mr. Sylvester A. Long, especially appeals to us. It deals with a vital subject we have often attempted in our feeble way to discuss, namely: the upbuilding of our community morally, commercially and intellectually. To do this successfully, a public sentiment must be created for clean-living, law-observance and public-spiritedness. Just as Mr. Long says "No people can ever build a community worth while unless they have first caught in their civic consciousness the picture of a more ideal community than anything they have ever seen. Both the practical and the ideal are essential."

We hope our people, and especially our men—upon whom the responsibility of such reforms must of necessity largely rest—will hear Mr. Long. He will materially aid one to fully appreciate one's debt as a good citizen to the community.

AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION

Elsewhere in this issue appears an account of two boys being bitten by a mad dog. Last year we had the same experience. In a number of parts of the county recently dogs have gone mad, causing the death of several head of stock. It seems to us that the time is at hand for the Chief of Police and his deputies and the Sheriff and his deputies to inaugurate a dog killing week here. There are hundreds of stray dogs in our city and county, no one claims to own and upon which no tax has been paid. The law provides that such dogs shall be killed. There are entirely too many useless dogs everywhere and their destruction might be the means of saving some child's life.

While the London editor who referred to President Wilson as the "first citizen of the world" took in quite an amount of territory, the tribute is nevertheless well deserved.

Sixteen pages this week is evidence of what the business men think of the results that can be obtained by advertising in the Advocate.

MR. STANLEY IN 1911

Mr. A. O. Stanley continues to assert that he "stands upon the county unit bill," and that he only voted against putting a county unit plank in the Democratic platform of 1911 because he was instructed to vote that way by the delegates from Henderson county.

The part Mr. Stanley played in the 1911 convention is well known. Not only did he vote against the county unit bill, but he acted as one of the floor leaders for the liquor politicians fighting that measure.

This is only half the story. The night before the State convention met there was a meeting of the nominees on the Democratic ticket at the Louisville hotel. Mr. Stanley appeared before those candidates and made a heated liquor speech urging the candidates to use their influence to reject the county unit bill and to adopt a platform agreeable to his liquor allies.

Not content with one incendiary speech of that character, Mr. Stanley later in the same evening forced himself again before the candidates and repeated his arguments.

The truth of this incident can be ascertained from any candidate on the Democratic ticket of 1911, from Gov. McCreary down. Mr. Stanley was a leader of the liquor forces in 1911; he is their choice now, a distinction won by services at Washington and in Kentucky. If he is made the Democratic nominee for any office he will injure the Democratic ticket and strengthen the prohibition movement.

The first duty of Democrats in Kentucky is to make impossible the nomination of Mr. Stanley.—Louisville Post.

SEWING PARTY

A beautiful and thoroughly charming affair was the Sewing Party given by Mrs. James Prewitt in compliment to her mother, Mrs. Enoch Bruton, at her attractive home on N. Synamore street, last Saturday afternoon. There were four great grandmothers and eighteen grandmothers present. A sewing outfit for best embroidery in an allotted time was awarded to Mrs. Minerva Thompson. A consolation prize, a gorgeous bunch of coreopsis, was awarded to Mrs. J. W. Chenault. The beautiful home never looked lovelier than on this occasion, it being decorated throughout with cut flowers and guests present thoroughly enjoyed the afternoon. A delicious lunch was served on the spacious veranda.

ADVANCING

Barboursville, Ky.—The Suffragette movement is being felt by the turkey family.

A big turkey gobbler belonging to Bastin Wyrick, of this city, has hatched 13 turkeys. So far as known here this is the first batch of turkeys ever hatched by a male fowl.

The gobbler showed an inclination to set, and Wyrick, as an experiment, placed 15 eggs in the nest.

The gobbler remained "on the job" faithfully, while his feminine mate did the cackling.

PRESS MEET AT SPRINGS

Newspaper Men From All Over The State Meet at Historic Olympian Springs.

Newspaper men from all over Kentucky, many of them accompanied by their wives and children, gathered at Olympian Springs last week for the mid-summer meeting of the Kentucky Press Association. The various business sessions were instructive and greatly enjoyed. The springs this year is under new management and from the service given the guests the people in charge evidently know very little about the hotel business.

It was the opinion of the greater number of press people that the press association would not meet at that place again.

Col. Newmeyer's Sale.

We wish to call our readers attention to the large two page advertisement of Col. S. M. Newmeyer, the genial proprietor of The Louisville Store appearing in this issue.

Col. Newmeyer has been in business in this city for many, many years and his Mill-Remnant Sales have always attracted large crowds of bargain hunters to his store and he never disappoints them. Look at a few of the prices—they will convince you.

OPENING DANCE AT OIL SPRINGS FRIDAY

The opening dance will be given at beautiful Oil Springs Friday night and quite a nice crowd is expected, as many young people have signified their intention of attending.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Moore, who have charge this year, wish us to announce that contrary to the custom at the springs, there will be no admission charged to the dancing pavilion. A delightful lunch will be served and special music has been engaged. Under the able management of Mr. and Mrs. Moore, Oil Springs will be one of the leading summer resorts of Kentucky.

WILL MAKE IMPROVEMENTS

Mr. Wm. Bang, of the Chief Engineer's office, Atlanta, Ga., and Mr. R. E. Hill, of the Division office, Louisville, are in Mt. Sterling making a special development study of the town for the Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Co. It is proposed to rebuild the cable plant and install a modern system of cable distribution which will be estimated to meet the requirements of the local exchange for 15 or 18 years. It is expected that this work will be done this summer. As recently stated in these columns, the city's rapid growth in the west end has taken up all the available cable facilities, hence the necessity of the increase in cable plant.

BRYAN OFFERS RESIGNATION

Secretary of State Does Not Agree With President's Policy and Resigns.

Hon. William Jennings Bryan, Secretary of State, last week tendered his resignation to President Woodrow Wilson, who promptly received same. His resignation was caused by President Wilson's last note to the German Government demanding to know their position on questions of importance to the United States and was couched in terms that did not suit Mr. Bryan.

Mr. Bryan is a great man but Mr. Wilson is a greater man and the stand he has taken in this, the most trying situation through which our country has had to pass in many years, stamps him as one of the greatest men in our history. The press throughout the country is practically unanimously in its support of the President in his European policies.

Sale at New Store.

Mr. J. H. Keller, who started the new store in this city a few months ago and who by courteous treatment and fair dealing with his customers has already won their confidence and esteem, is out this week with a special announcement to the public, which appears on another page of this paper. We hope our readers will carefully read his advertisement and will take advantage of the opportunities offered to secure bargains.

DOING FINE WORK

Assistant County Road Engineer J. Rice Crooks, with a force of hands and the county machinery is re-surfacing the Winchester turnpike and while the work is not yet completed, it is now in better condition than we have seen it for many years. A large number of contracts have been let on other pikes and much work has been mapped out for the present season.

BEAUTIFUL VOICE

Miss Lillian Rose Veach, of Louisville, who is the attractive visitor of Mrs. A. Sidney Hart, sang a solo at the Christian church Sunday morning which was greatly enjoyed by all who were so fortunate as to hear her. Miss Veach possesses a remarkably sweet voice. She will spend the week-end with Mrs. Judson Anderson.

NARROW ESCAPE

An automobile driven by a young man named McClure Thursday evening of last week struck and nearly demolished a bicycle ridden by Mr. Miles Mackie. Mr. Mackie was knocked from the bicycle and sustained painful but not serious injuries.

Mr. Mackie says the young man turned the corner from Bank street to Main street at a high rate of speed, did not sound his horn and was looking back or toward one side and not in the direction in which he was driving. Mr. Mackie tried to get out of the way and called to the driver but he was unable to stop the machine before striking him.

Mr. Mackie is able to be out but is on crutches. This is one of the narrowest escapes from death that has occurred here this summer.

Some men are men, while others travel around in men's clothes.

RETURNS HOME

Mr. Norman D. Brown who has been employed at Lawrenceburg on the Anderson County News has returned to this city and accepted a position with the Sentinel-Democrat. Mr. Brown will also be engaged as drummer at the Tabb Opera House. He has many friends here who will be glad to hear of his return to this city. Mrs. Brown and bright little daughter, who have been in Florida for several months will return shortly and they will go to housekeeping.

We are at least afforded an opportunity to forget Mexico.

"Say," asked the Gothamite of a man in the washroom, "don't the owner of this hotel know that it's against the law of the state of Illinois to use roller towels now?" "He knows it all right enough," said the man addressed, "but that wasn't passed when this towel was put up." (San Francisco) Argonaut.

LET US ALL GO TO WORK

By a Special Effort We Can Make Our City Doubly Attractive to the Stranger.

There is one important thing of which this city stands in dire need. We need an organization for the purpose of fostering a civic pride and advancing local interests.

We humans are like a flock of sheep—we follow our leaders.

That's the reason we need an organization with a backbone of steel, some one to take the lead and keep the lead and push the lead away up to the front rank of progressiveness.

We could make this town so clean it would be a household word throughout this whole section of country—if we wanted to.

But we never want to unless some one takes the lead, and pulls off his coat, and gets down to cleaning up his own premises, and injects the clean-up spirit into others.

But who's going to take the lead? Are you?

There need be no expense to keeping a clean town—just a matter of every fellow keeping his own place just a little cleaner than the others, and all hands pushing the authorities along in the matter of polishing up the public places.

By all means let's have a civic pride organization, with every member constituting himself a leader and trying to outdo everybody else in community cleanliness and beauty.

Make the start, gentlemen, somebody make the start.

This paper will get behind and shove.

BITTEN BY MAD DOG

Asa and Richard Eubank, sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Eubank, of this city, were bitten by a dog last week, which soon began acting queerly. The family becoming alarmed, called Dr. G. M. Horton who at once shipped its head to Dr. McCormick at Bowling Green. Upon investigation, it was found to contain positive evidences of hydrophobia and at Dr. McCormick's suggestion Mr. Eubank at once took his sons to Bowling Green for treatment, where they now are. There have recently been a number of mad dogs in various parts of the county and as there are hundreds of stray dogs in the city and county, for the protection of the public, our officers ought to at once kill them.

STAGGERING FRAUDS OF LIQUOR MEN ALLEGED FOUND

It has become known on unimpeachable authority that a number of distillers and revenue officers in the city of Louisville and the surrounding revenue districts are involved in an investigation of alleged whisky frauds being conducted by David A. Gates, Deputy Commissioner of Internal Revenue for the United States.

Mr. Gates has for several years been interested in investigating frauds perpetrated in all parts of the South by distillers and whisky dealers, and in the past six months revelations of so serious a character have come to the Internal Revenue Service that it seems indubitable that the frauds about to be exposed will surpass in magnitude those of the famous whisky ring under General Grant's administration.

More than twenty million dollars have been lost to the Federal Government in the past ten years as a result of these frauds, it is stated.

Col. Briseoe B. Boulding, Internal Revenue agent for this district, was asked about the truth of the reports concerning the investigations in this district.

He acknowledged that careful investigations under the immediate supervision of the highest Federal authorities were still in progress, and that a conspiracy leading to extensive frauds involving some local distillers and whisky dealers and some of the members of the Internal Revenue Department were indicated.

KENTUCKY COURT'S VIEW SUSTAINED AS CORRECT

The U. S. Supreme Court Monday disposed of the so-called Kentucky Webb-Kenyon liquor cases without determining the constitutionality of the Webb-Kenyon law, or passing on its construction.

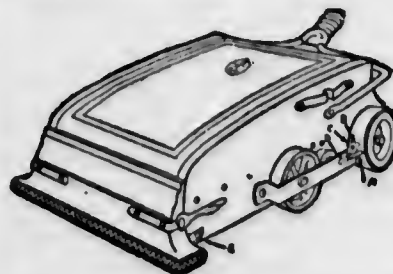

The Kentucky case was a prosecution of the Adams Express Company for bringing liquor for personal use into Whitley county, Kentucky, "dry territory."

Justice Day, for the court, held it was bound to accept the decision of the Kentucky Court of Appeals that the Webb-Kenyon law was not applicable. Under that decision the conviction of the express company was set aside.

SHE HAD A HEART

Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish was one of the best known society women of America. She was a member of an ancient and aristocratic family. She married into another. She was wealthy and her husband was wealthy but Mrs. Fish was not a butterfly. She maintained many charities. She entertained lavishly. She was the leader of the most exclusive social set of New York, yet she had the time to aid people in distress whether through strikes or other hardships. This queen of the New York smart set, who died last week, had a heart. She could sympathize with those who needed sympathy. She never offered the hungry or the sick a tract or gave them advice. She opened her purse and fed them first. She was one of those who helped the girl garment makers two years ago to win their strike for better wages and more sanitary shop surroundings. She warred on the rich owners of miserable tenements and had no respect for hypocrites in or out of the church who amassed large fortunes at the expense of the blood and tears of the poor and then made fat donations to foreign mission funds to carry the gospel to so-called heathen countries.—Arkansas Thomas Cat.

A SUBSCRIPTION SHOWER

A popular social affair among the newspaper boys is a "subscription shower." It is a good deal like the linen and china showers given in honor of prospective brides. A number of subscribers whose subscriptions are due get together and induce their neighbors who are not subscribers to join them. They go in a body to the newspaper office, where each planks down a dollar and takes credit for subscription. If the editor's face is wreathed in smiles the affair is a success. If he looks gloomy and grouchy the affair is a failure and not worth trying again. Try it once and see if it isn't a success.—Bourbon News.

THE GREATEST OF RACES

The contest for The Castleton Cup (a beautiful gold trophy) and the $2,000 that go with it, at Lexington in October, will probably be the greatest race the world ever saw. The Kentucky T. H. B. Association is to be congratulated on its enterprise in making one of its best stakes for horses of the fastest class, the free-for-all, for the entries are such that they are certain to draw an immense attendance from all parts of this country and Canada. They would attract people from Europe but for the war. The entries are: The Anvil 2:02½; Etawah 2:03½; Peter Volo 2:03½; Peter Scott 2:07½; Lee Axworthy 2:08; Joan 2:04½; Rhythmell 2:04½; Ross B. 2:04½; May Mack 2:04½; Star Winter 2:05; Newzel 2:05½; Brighton B. 2:05½; Margaret Bruen 2:05½; J. Malcolm Forbes 2:08; Peter McCormick 2:08½; Sir Harvester 2:24½.

Ex-Governor Shallenberger Coming Chautauqua Week

HON. A. C. SHALLENBERGER NOW CONGRESSMAN FROM NEBRASKA.

HON. ASHTON C. SHALLENBERGER, ex-governor of Nebraska and newly elected congressman, whose campaign was in many ways very remarkable, is to lecture here on the third day of the Redpath Chautauqua this season. Aside from his prominence in state and national affairs, he is a fluent and entertaining speaker, and his appearance on the program is an event well worth while.

In the 435 congressional elections in 1914 only four Democrats won in districts that were already represented by Republicans. Mr. Shallenberger was one of the four. After continued solicitation by the Democratic leaders of the state he consented to run for congress with the understanding that he would not make any political campaign for the nomination. He had already signed a contract with the Redpath Bureau to fill a season of 1914 Chautauqua dates, and the tour was near at hand.

Mr. Shallenberger was not in his district a day during his campaign nor was any work done for him by any one else. Some others made a complete canvass of the district with speechmaking, posters and literature.

When the election was held Mr. Shallenberger was at Farmington, Mo. While there he received a telegram that he had won the nomination and that he had received more votes than all the other candidates against him twice over. He had defeated his leading competitor by about three to one.

Mr. Shallenberger finished his Chautauqua tour in Missouri about Sept. 1. Returning home, he jumped at once into a whirlwind campaign. He reached every town in his district by automobile and spoke about 150 times in four weeks. Sometimes he spoke four times in one day. He won out in a strong Republican district over a man who had never lost a political battle before. He still has the distinction of being the only Democrat that has been able to carry this district for congress since he represented it before.

Mr. Shallenberger has served in congress from his district before and in 1906 was elected governor of Nebraska, receiving a majority nearly double that of his fellow citizen, William Jennings Bryan. He is the only Democrat ever elected from his district to congress and the second Democratic governor of Nebraska.

UNUSUAL OCCASION

The Harrodsburg Herald of this week contains an account of a rather unusual celebration. The Christian church of that city entertained for two days in honor of the four pastors they have had during the past ten years. There was a grand banquet and speech-making till nearly midnight. The returned ministers were Revs. M. G. Buckner, of Owensboro; W. H. Smith, Bloomington, Ind.; Horace Kingsburg, of Lexington, and H. P. Atkins, of Birmingham. In view of the fact that Rev. M. V. P. Yeaman, of this city, was pastor of the Presbyterian church, of Harrodsburg, during the period covered by the other pastors an intimate friend of each, he too was invited to return and respond to a toast. The daylight hours were spent by the visitors in calling upon all the "shut-ins" among their former friends.

THE WILL TO DO

If any foreign country entertains a notion that this country is to be frightened from the pursuit of a course which it deems to be right and just, then that country is likely to receive a sudden and violent jolt.

The head in the White House contains too many brains for the United States to submit forever to being heetered and pestered and bullied by any nation on earth. And the American people are solidly behind the President in his stand for national honor and rights upon the high seas.

We are not looking for trouble, we do not intend to seek it, and we will do our best to honorably avoid it, but if it is to be forced upon us then the aggressor will find that the lack of an army and proper equipment will not deter the American people for one moment.

No obstacle has ever been too great in the past for the American people to overcome, or surmount, and if it comes this will be no exception to the rule.

The American people have the will to do, AND THEY WILL DO.

The foe who attacks us will see our faces, and not our backs.

THE CRAWFISH SIGN

Old people who watch signs in discerning the weather for the future are confident that we are to have a wet summer. The predictions are based upon the fact the crawfish are not building mounds this spring, but end the holes abruptly at the top of the ground. This sign is relied upon absolutely by many old people and according to them is unfailing. In seasons when the weather is to be dry the crawfish build high mounds. By the fact that they have no mounds at all this spring it is indicated that the summer will be exceedingly wet.—Columbia News.

PHYSICAL ADVISER OF PRESIDENT TAFT TO LECTURE AT OUR CHAUTAUQUA ON "HOW TO LIVE 100 YEARS"

Important Health Exercises Will Be Demonstrated by Dr. Barker During His Afternoon Lecture—Exercises Which Any One Can Practice at Home

EVERY one is, of course, interested in learning how to live 100 years. The fact that a lecture on this subject by so prominent an authority as Dr. Charles E. Barker, who was physical adviser to President Taft during his administration, is to be given Chautauqua week is at once of great importance.

At the morning session on the third day Dr. Barker will give his lecture entitled "Health and Happiness," and in the afternoon his subject will be, as stated above, "How to Live 100 Years." At this afternoon lecture Dr. Barker will give demonstrations of physical exercises which every one can practice at home. He will also outline a plan of diet which should be followed by business men in offices and others who are not performing hard manual labor.

It was Dr. Barker who, by his system of physical exercises and plan of diet, reduced President Taft's weight some eighty-five pounds. The exercises which Dr. Barker will demonstrate, however, are not necessarily to reduce flesh, but are just as essential to the man or woman of average weight.

Aside from President Taft, many other prominent men in national life have followed Dr. Barker's plan for health. He stands in the forefront of teachers, orators and exemplars of the gospel of health and happiness. He has lectured widely under the auspices of the physical training department of the national committee of the Y. M. C. A., and his work has been widely commented upon both in the editorial and news columns of our largest city newspapers. One of the Springfield (Mass.) papers during his recent week's lecture engagements in that city published daily articles on health from Dr. Barker's pen.

Dr. Barker will be glad to answer all questions along the lines in which he is specializing. It is safe to prophesy that "health day" at the Chautauqua will leave excellent results in every one of the 120 cities in which Dr. Barker is to appear.

SIXTH ARTICLE ON THE CONSOLIDATION OF SCHOOLS

In the province of Victoria, Australia 158 schools were closed by the plan of consolidation, and after deducting the cost of conveyance the saving amounted to $50,000 per annum. The minister says that it is a marked success and that if one feature as to its working stands out more prominently than another it is the remarkable regularity in attendance of the children conveyed. A later report from Victoria is quoted in the report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction for Iowa in 1901 as follows: "Under the system of conveyance 241 schools have been closed. The saving in closed schools amounts to $70,000 per annum. The attendance is so regular and the system to popular that applications are constantly made for its extension."

Report of Superintendent Rankin to the University of Illinois, who was sent by the University to make personal inspection of the question on the ground where the consolidated schools were in actual operation. He was sent not only because he was unable, but also because he had bias for or against the system, and it was the wish of the University in compliance strictly with the wishes of the Illinois Farmers Institute, to be furnished with actual facts including advantages and disadvantages attending the "new way." He visited schools and houses, rode in wagons, talked with patrons, pupils and drivers, and by every means at his disposal undertook to learn the exact condition of things. His reports to the University follows in full. Its length necessitating several articles and those who care to have it in continuation had better reserve several papers in which it is published; "Professor Eugene Davenport, Dean of the College of Agriculture, Dear sir,—The writer herewith makes brief report of a visit made in May, 1902, to Indiana and Ohio for the purpose of personally investigating the working of the central school system.

"Acting under the direction of the College of Agriculture and having no bias or preconceived personal opinion it was endeavor to look for exact conditions, and by just comparison in townships where the system of centralized schools might be found in operation both alone and in connection with other schools, determine what has been gained or lost by consolidation.

"A stop was made at Indianapolis, Ind., where State Superintendent Jones informed me that centralization of the district schools is going on in many parts of the State and that it was proving satisfactory in the main (since this date Indiana has made the most remarkable strides known anywhere). He said that while there had been some occasional surface disturbance, there was on the other hand a steady, constant undercurrent carrying the sentiment of centralization into new communities. Transportation is a success. The township system prevails in this State and the township trustee has the power to close the school and transport children at public expense. Some forty counties in Indiana have begun the work of collecting the children into larger groups by transporting them. In talking with a number of pupils of the schools and those who have observed the system throughout the State, the testimony is nearly unanimous that attendance is improved by the conveyance of pupils, and in the minds of the majority the many advantages outweigh some of the disadvantages which may be named. Over sixty per cent. of the towns and districts report the cost as less but the results as better after consolidation. About 15 per cent. the cost as about the same, and 10 per cent. that the system costs more, but the results are better. In the newer districts, where the system was adopted, about three-fourths of the patrons seem to approve the plan and earnestly advocate it. Some are in a measure indifferent and a few are opposed to it although in those communities where it has been practiced the longest the opposition is the least. Prof. W. C. Latta, of the College of Agriculture, at Lafayette, who is also State Superintendent of Farmers Institute, says "while some disadvantages and objections are noted, yet in general the success of the 'new plan' where tried, seems remarkable and decisive. Mr. John S. Board, a prominent farmer, of Fountain county, says, 'Two years ago in VanBuren township the trustees began the experiment. At first only 3 wagons were used at the Stone Bluff school, last year several of the schools houses were sold and more wagons added and this year it is the plan to close all the schools in the township except two and transport the children to those two. These buildings cost about $8,000 and are fully up-to-date in every needed particular. The patrons like it after trying the plan and there is hardly a person who expresses opposition, even though opposing it before trying the experiment.'"

(This report will be continued in the following two or three editions of the paper.—Editor.)

A cut price sale conducted along entirely new lines has just been inaugurated by A. B. Oldham & Co. TALKS ON HEALTH

By Dr. CHARLES E. BARKER

(Physical adviser to President Taft during his administration in Washington)

Who is to Lecture Here on Third Day of the Chautauqua

If you wish to have abounding health, with plenty of vitality on the side to meet the wear and tear of everyday work, get a ticket over the R. R. O. S. E., which, being interpreted, means the royal road of systematic exercises.

The best kind of exercise for health is that which brings into play the muscles of the chest and abdomen, or, in other words, the region of the body in which the vital organs lie.

In former years exercises were taught for the purpose of developing large muscles in the limbs, back and shoulders, but large exterior muscle does not necessarily spell health and vitality. But your busy man or woman will say, "I think exercise is a good thing, but I haven't really the time to do it."

No matter how busy you may be, if you will get into the habit of spending ten or fifteen minutes in some kind of daily exercise which stimulates the circulation of blood through the whole body you can do more work the rest of the day, better work, have less fatigue when night comes, prevent disease and lengthen your life.

Can you beat that program for a dividend paying investment?

Don't make the mistake of taking much exercise when you begin such a program, especially if you are forty years of age or older.

Exercise your common sense as well as your muscles and let your moderation be known unto all men in this as in all other things. Begin by taking four or five minutes, and as you find your strength and endurance increasing extend the time gradually until you can go through all sorts of stunts for fifteen minutes, with the lungs and heart working easily and regularly.

MAKING A MICROSCOPE.

Lenses So Delicate That a Rough Finger Mark Spoils Them.

The microscope has grown from a simple magnifying glass into a complex of lenses and means of adjustment that has enabled trained eyes to discover a world of infinitesimal things undreamed of before the instrument was perfected.

There is nothing remarkable about the stand on which the lenses are mounted, except the extreme accuracy that the sixty or seventy parts demand; hence the finishing of it must be done by hand. Nearly 100 screws are used in the stand alone, and some of them must be turned so exactly that an error of more than one five thousandth of an inch spoils the screw.

The making of the lenses is still more important. The glass, which is the very best of "lead flint," is received from the glass works in small slabs and bricks. The workmen split the slabs into pieces of any required size by a small circular saw that has diamond dust hammered into its edge for teeth. Next, the men clip the detached piece into a circular form with shears and hold the rough block on a horizontal grindstone until it is worn down to a smooth disk of the proper size and thickness.

After that it must be ground to a certain degree of either convexity or concavity, according to the service it is to perform. That the men do by pressing it on a rounded grinder if it is to be concave, or within a cup shaped one if it is to be a convex lens. The grinders revolve horizontally at high speed. The workman ascertains that the proper curvature has been reached by measurements and does his work so exactly that very few lenses fail to pass the first test.

The right form having been obtained, the lens must next be polished on buff wheels until it is transparent, and here the strictest attention and skill are required. A high power lens is useless unless it brings the rays of light that pass through it to an absolute focus. Any irregularity in the curvature of the lens will interfere with that, because the rays of light will bend at a different angle and blur the image of the object before the lens.

How delicate this part of the process is you can judge from the fact that a big lens, such as is used in an observatory telescope, can be spoiled if a man drags his thumb roughly across its surface.

Finally the lenses are tested and then mounted in the microscope. For the complete instrument you must in some cases pay $1,000—almost altogether for labor and skill, for the materials of the exquisite apparatus cost very little.—Youth's Companion.

The One Exception.

A certain suburban house contains five unmarried ladies who are continually sighing over "what might have been." Recently a rag and bone collector was pursuing his vocation in the vicinity, and through an open window were wafted the strains of his sonorous chant, "Old rags, old copper, old iron, old brass, old bones, old bottles, old shoes, old hats," and so on, until he had named almost every known object. Then he ceased, and one of the ladies mentioned sank down into a chair, threw up her hands and exclaimed dramatically in accents of despair:

"Oh, dear! He wants everything but old maids!"—London Seraps.

The Vice President's Gavel.

Nothing is more closely guarded in the senate than the vice president's gavel. It is a piece of old ivory, about the size of a large spool. It was used by John Adams when he was vice president and has been used by every presiding officer since. It is therefore historical and is yellow with age and cracked.

It is locked up every day in the vice president's desk, and when the senate is in recess or adjourned it is placed in the senate safe, where the money is kept.—Boston Advertiser.

How Scotch Save Money.

Four Scotchmen were traveling without tickets. On arriving at the station before their destination one disappeared for a short time and returned with four tickets. "How did ye do it?" asked one. "I just walked along the train and called out, 'Tickets, please,' and these were handed to me by four Saxon tourists."—Cardiff Western Mail.

An Early Caller.

Anxious Mother—I cannot permit you to have such late callers. It was after 11 o'clock when Mr. Huggins left last night.

Pretty Daughter—Why, mamma, I don't see how you can class Mr. Huggins as a late caller. It was only 7:30 when he came.—Chicago News.

UNSCIENTIFIC MEASURES.

The Mixtures That Are Used in France and in This Country.

It is a strange fact that, while France makes use of her metrical system of reckoning by the decimal in every form of measure and standard except in her money, the United States does not use the decimal system in any form of measure except in money.

The Frenchman measures his distance and solid and liquid quantities by "deka" and "deci" and other forms of prefixes denoting an increase or decrease of tenfold until he comes to his money, in which case he adopts the unscientific method of the son and the franc and the louis d'or, with the livre and crown and other unscientific terms of denomination to fill out.

The American, however, although boasting of his scientific advancement, still uses the same old unscientific measures of pounds and ounces and tens or yards and feet and inches and such antiquated standards as sufficed for the simple commerce of the middle ages but are wholly unfitted to the orderly and scientific business methods of the twentieth century—except when it comes to money. Then he waxes scientific and adopts the decimal system, using the cent and dime and dollar and eagle, each differing by tenfold.

The strange thing about all this is that, although the French legislative bodies and the American congress have both made efforts to change their system of measures so as to make them wholly decimal and scientific, the opposition has been so great that these efforts have been in vain. The advantage of the decimal system is admittedly obvious; the disadvantages of the older systems are patent to every one.

Yet, such is the conservatism of the average human—and these compose the bulk of the population—that they refuse to submit to a change which has everything in its favor. It is the same spirit that prompts a tailor to put useless buttons on the back and sleeves of a man's coat because tailors have been taught it for ages.

And so these two nations will probably go along for generations, each using a defective system, and yet each one able to acquire a perfect system if it would only adopt part of the system of the other.—Washington Star.

The Craving For Salt.

If salt is not essential to life why do those who have little or none of it crave for it? You should see, as I have seen (writes a correspondent) the whole population turn out of an African village on the approach of white prospectors in the hope of obtaining salt. The men demanded it, the women clamored and the children cried for it. Even the coffee colored babies slung astride their mothers' backs thrust forth their tiny hands and devoured it as greedily as our English children do sweets. A spoonful of salt all around established amicable relations, and when it came later to bartering I found salt by far the most valuable medium. Value for value, salt procured three times as much as calico or fancy goods.—London Chronicle.

Painter and Peddler.

F. Hopkinson Smith was sketching a landscape in Maine when an aged man stepped up behind him and looked over his shoulder at the canvas.

"Humph!" said the stranger, somewhat scornfully. "What do you paint them for—the market?"

"Yes," said Mr. Smith. "You must paint a lot of 'em to get a livin'." I guess you have a harder way of gettin' a livin' than I have."

"What is your business?" asked Mr. Smith.

"Oh, I peddle pond lilies!" said the man.

The First Saw.

Talus, the Greek, is said to have invented the saw from having once found the jawbone of a snake, which he employed to cut through a small piece of wood. In early periods the trunks of trees were split into boards with wedges, and, although these deals were not always straight, they were regarded as much better suited to construction than sawed boards because they followed the grain and lasted longer and were stronger. Water mills for the purpose of sawing came into use in the fourth century.

An Odd Slip.

Dr. Johnson once met the village postman trudging along the dusty road on a hot summer afternoon. The postman observed that he had still a mile to walk just to deliver one newspaper.

"My goodness," exclaimed the sympathetic doctor, "I'd never go all that distance for such a trifle! Why don't you send it by post?"

A Beacon of Hope

When the storm rages and the cruel sea roars as though in ghoulish glee the lighthouse is truly a beacon of hope. And when the storm of financial trouble beats upon you and the horrible pit of disaster yawns before you a bank account is your SUREST beacon of help. You know this. You have heard it a thousand times. But are you really saving all you OUGHT to save? Are you actually laying a solid foundation for your beacon of hope? THINK THIS OVER.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Mrs. Thomas Barrow's party Thursday afternoon was a lovely compliment to a welcome visitor from the South, Mrs. Charlton Evans, who as Miss Henrietta Prewitt, of Montgomery county, was one of Kentucky's most beautiful daughters, with mature years her loveliness has increased until in the galaxy of America's beautiful women she has a prominent place. Mrs. Barrow, assisted by Mrs. Evans received the ladies graciously, some time being spent in conversation before the fascinating games of Forty-two were played. The parlor, library, halls and dining room were ablaze with white hydrangea and crimson ramblers. After several games a tempting salad luncheon was served. The host was assisted in the hospitalities by Mrs. Rufus Lisle, Mrs. Jack McCord and Mrs. Cecil Parks. —Winchester Democrat.

Mrs. C. D. Grubbs, of Mt. Sterling, who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. C. C. Turner, was honored with a luncheon-bridge on Saturday by her hostess, and the members of the New Bridge Club were the invited guests. Mrs. D.
